

1

Does your child have difficulty understanding you?

Hearing loss can be identified and treated even in newborn babies. Early detection is critical in improving quality of life and developing speech and language. If you suspect a problem with your child's hearing, contact an Audiologist.

Find a professional near you at www.caslpa.ca

2

- Do you have difficulty hearing?
- Do you experience a ringing or buzzing sensation in your ears?

- Do you ask people to repeat themselves?
- Do you experience balance problems?

You are not alone! Millions of Canadians have these problems.

Audiologists are highly trained professionals who help you improve your quality of life by identifying and managing your hearing and balance problems.

Find a professional near you at www.caslpa.ca

3

Audiologists are highly trained professionals who help individuals with hearing and balance problems to improve their quality of life. Your ears deserve the best, contact an Audiologist today!

Find a professional near you at www.caslpa.ca

4

Are you suffering from hearing or balance problems?

Ignoring these issues may lead to feelings of worry, anxiety, isolation and depression.

Consult an expert...contact an Audiologist.

Find a professional near you at www.caslpa.ca

5

Do you turn up the volume to listen to your radio or television? You may need to have your hearing checked.

Hearing disorders can be treated.

Audiologists are highly trained professionals who want to help improve your quality of life by identifying your hearing and balance problems.

Find a professional near you at www.caslpa.ca